

AMERCARE LTD Environmental Policy

Amercure has considered the impact on the environment of its products, services and activities and undertakes to not only comply with all current and future environment legislation, but also to play its part in minimising the impact of its activities and products on the environment.

Our principle environmental commitments are:

- To comply with all environmental legislation, codes of practice, regulatory controls and customer requirements in all regions and countries where we operate.
- Through good design maximise the life cycle of our products and ensure that the materials used in the construction of our products can be reused or recycled wherever possible.
- To use energy and materials efficiently and to reduce consumption wherever possible.
- To minimise packaging materials and to reuse packaging wherever possible.
- To minimise the generation of waste and to dispose of unavoidable waste in a responsible manner.
- To consider the environmental implications of changes to products, processes, materials and facilities when business decisions are made.
- To continually improve our environmental performance through the commitment of every employee and the support of the company.
- To provide appropriate resources for the implementation of this policy.

This policy is implemented at Amercare's design and production facility in Thame and also at each and every site during the installation, commissioning, and servicing of our products.
